Forecast For Scotland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Friday 22 Oct 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Mainly dry on Friday, a few coastal showers.

Today:
Many places dry, best of the sunshine in the northeast. A few showers, mainly affecting the Northern and Western Isles and areas near southwestern coasts. Less windy.

Tonight:
Many places dry, any showers largely dying out this evening. Becoming cold with some patchy frost. Strengthening southerly winds will bring rain to the Western Isles later.

Saturday:
Patchy rain in the north and east, persistent and heavy rain developing across the west later. Elsewhere mainly dry. Windy in the north and west, gales across the far northwest.

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Overnight rain soon clearing on Sunday, then bright and mild with scattered showers, these mainly in the west. Showers in the west on Monday. Patchy rain spreading east on Tuesday.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.